What man among you having a hundred sheep and losing one of them would not leave the ninety-nine in the desert and go after the lost one until he finds it? And when he does find it, he sets it on his shoulders with great joy.

FAITH FACTS

Reading: Luke 15:1-10

A coin that Jesus would have known - a denarius

Tax collectors were greatly disliked by the Jews of Jesus' time. The Jews were not a free people. They were subject to the Romans, and the Romans made them pay taxes to Rome. The Romans did not collect the taxes themselves. Instead, they employed Jews to do it. Each tax collector had to gather a certain sum for Rome. However, he was allowed to take some extra for himself, as payment. Some tax collectors took a great deal for themselves. Most Jews regarded them as sinful people, and traitors.

Word of Life — September 15

"Throughout salvation history, God has welcomed repentant sinners with special joy. Jesus concludes the parable of the lost sheep with these words: 'there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous people who have no need of repentance' (Lk 15:7)."

Saint of the Week

St. Januarius

Feast Day: Sept. 19

Early Christian bishop Januarius was martyred near Naples during the persecution of the Roman Emperor Diocletian. According to legend, as bishop of Benevento, he was visiting some imprisoned Christians in Pozzuli when he was arrested. The bishop and his Christian companions were condemned to death in an arena containing wild beasts—possibly bears or lions—but the animals wouldn't touch them. According to one tradition, Bishop Januarius blessed a lion, after which it knelt at the bishops' feet. Januarius and his companions were thereafter beheaded. This Italian saint is famous for the relic of his blood, which is kept at the Naples cathedral. It is believed that a woman, Eusebia, saved Januarius' blood after his martyrdom; it was an ancient Christian practice to preserve a vial of the blood of a martyr, often placed by his or her burial place in the catacombs. A phial of the solid blood, believed to belong to St. Januarius, liquefies annually on three different feasts: the date commemorating his martyrdom (Sept. 19); the date his relics were transferred to Naples (the Saturday before the first Sunday of May); and the anniversary of a liquefaction that allegedly halted the eruption of nearby Mount Vesuvius in 1631 (Dec. 16). The liquification is considered by many faithful as a sign that the year will be protected from disasters. Januarius, the patron saint of Naples, is also invoked against volcanic eruptions. He is also the patron saint of blood banks. Pope Francis visited the Naples cathedral in 2015. While there, the St. Januarius's blood partially liquified. After venerating the relic of St Januarius' blood, Pope Francis said: "The Archbishop said that the blood has liquefied partially: so the Saint loves us partially. Everyone needs a little more conversion so that he loves us more" (March 21, 2015).

A Back-to-School Prayer
Loving God, thank you for the rest and relaxation we enjoyed over the summer. Today, we pray for our children as they begin their new school year. Bless them with joy at seeing friends, excitement at new experiences, and a love of learning. Watch over all who learn, replacing fear with joy, anxiety with peace, and tiredness with energy. Grant teachers wisdom, patience, and joy in serving their students. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.
